Revolutionists in Barracks Refuse to Surrender, But Declare Will Still Resist.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 23.—The revolt of Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of the exiled president, has been short-lived. The town of Vera Cruz, which he occupied with about 2,000 adherents for several days, was captured by the Federal forces today. The casualties were few. Two federal columns commanded by Col. Jimenez Castro and Gen. Joaquin Beltran, entered Vera Cruz from the north and south.

There was slight opposition to their advance, Col. Castro, with less than fifty men, capturing Gen. Felix Diaz, whose 300 men at police headquarters refused to fire at his command.

The revolutionists in the barracks have not yet surrendered. They say they will hold out until the last man is killed. However, the weaker spirits seem to be trying to escape. The killed and wounded number less than 100.

No Foreigners Hurt

No foreigner was hurt. Desultory firing continued after the Federals entered the town. Instead of a great battle, everything was in a muddle. Rebels and Federals encountered each other in the streets without one knowing which side the other was affiliated with as uniforms of all were alike.

Col. Jimenez Castro was shot in the leg during the firing. Col. Diaz Ordaza of the Twenty-First Infantry, who joined Gen. Diaz with his troops in the revolution, has disappeared, but an active search for him is being made.

The Rebel officers have been made prisoners. It is believed they will not be punished.

The United States Cruiser Des Moines sent Lieut. Burns and Passed Assistant Surgeon Cohen ashore to attend the wounded.

Gen. Felix Diaz, Col. Jose Diaz Aranda and all officers of the rebellion troops and marines, will be haled immediately before a court martial and doubtless will suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for convening the court, which will be presided over by Gen. Beltran. Gen.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON

Wife of the Democratic Presidential Nominee. Honorary President of the Woman's National Democratic League.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the new leader of Democracy and probable next mistress of the White House, is perhaps the most interesting woman in the United States today. This is inevitable—not because she wishes it, for she does not—and is as firm in her conviction that being the wife of a public man does not necessitate nor call for a woman's becoming a publicity seeker. She successfully resisted all appeals of photographers and interviewers until Mr. Wilson's nomination as Democratic candidate for the presidency was un fait accompli. This modesty is easily traced to her southern ancestry and training and is characteristic also of her distinguished husband.

She was born Ellen Louise Axson, daughter of a Presbyterian divine of Savannah, Ga., whose family, so far as he knows, is the only one of the name in America.

Like Mr. Wilson, she has one brother and one sister living, all in the same literary circle as the doctor and herself.

In this atmosphere of learning Mrs. Wilson could hardly be expected to be other than she is—widely read, broad-minded and charitable, devoted to her home and the principles for which it stands.

She has marked ability as an artist, and it is said that a portrait painter of ability was spoiled when she married the young barrister who had then given up the practice of his profession to specialize on the subject that has made him a presidential nominee.

Mrs. Wilson's three daughters—Misses Margaret Woodrow Wilson, Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Eleanor Randolph Wilson—possess the mental characteristics of their father and their mother's artistic temperament, combined in such a way as to give zest to every moment of their lives and protection from the foibles of the world. They form, indeed, an ideal family circle, one that it would be well for every American household to emulate.

Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is amenable in such court under the law, which provides for a trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

Soldiers of the rebellion troops will be decimated—one in ten being executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty of all. The information was imparted officially tonight.

Conference of Canadian Printers.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The second annual conference of Canadian printers assembled in Montreal today with delegates in attendance from all of the Provinces and some of the large cities of the United States. The meeting will last two days and will be devoted to the discussion of numerous subjects relating to the printing industry.

OVER THE HILL TO THE POORHOUSE

Ours is a land of plenty. On this great country are showered the richest blessings of a provident and Almighty God. Yet we often behold sights which make one to grow sick at heart and doubt the charity of our fellowmen.

Yesterday on the streets of Ada appeared a woman and two little children who evidently had not been dealt kindly by the god of fortune. The mother was a poor, ignorant looking woman, clad in torn and tattered garments. Her bonnet hung loose and limp about her face; her shoes were tied on with cotton strings, and about her shoulders, although it was a cool and chilly day, there was only a thin and tattered shawl. And yet, in spite of fall this poverty and want from out her womanly countenance there beamed the radiant light of young motherhood, though solemn and disappointed.

But the story grows more serious. Two little children, one a babe in the mother's arms and the other a child of some three or four summers, held tightly with baby hands to mother's dress. The little fellows were hungry and emaciated. They, too, were thinly clad, and already their little faces bore the unmistakable marks of grinding poverty.

It was a pitiable sight, and was made more so when the writer learned that this unfortunate family had been turned out of house and home for the winter because the father could not make good on a mortgage. Ah, me! man's inhumanity to man!

An Announcement.

Rev. Kelley of Oklahoma City will speak tonight at the Asbury Methodist church. Everybody invited to attend.

WILSON DELIVERS A SERMON-SPEECH

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 23.—In the solemn atmosphere of a church, apart from the noise of political demonstration, to which he has been accustomed during the last two months, Governor Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech tonight. It was virtually a sermon on the value of church organization and was the principal address at the exercises celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church at Trenton.

"Life without the standard of the church," said the governor, "is something like a faltering quicksand. The church is one of the many expressions of the permanent side of life. This church, through its 200 years has witnessed the birth and death of political parties. It has seen everything change, except the search for God and every community should realize that the search for God should take precedence over everything else."

"I know that the salvation of a church, however, the salvation of the community and the salvation of the state, is to be found only by men who are greater than themselves, a man who is indifferent to his own success, but confident only of the cause he represents has the hosts of Almighty God behind him."

The audience listened intently and applauded vigorously when the governor finished.

NELS DARLING BURSTS FORTH

BULL MOOSER ENTERTAINED SMALL CROWD AT COURT HOUSE.

Last night at the county court house Hon. Nels Darling of Oklahoma City, the irrepressible humorist and platform lecturer, played in a new role. He spoke in behalf of Roosevelt and Johnson in particular and the Bull Moose in general, and made a splendid impression—from a humorist standpoint—upon the small crowd present.

As stated above, Mr. Darling is a platform speaker of the first class, and from his side of the question he presented a splendid case, making both Wilson and Taft appear as mole hills compared to mountains alongside Mr. Roosevelt, and Johnson in particular and the Bull Moose in general, and made a splendid impression—from a humorist standpoint—upon the small crowd present.

The audience listened intently and applauded vigorously when the humorist finished.

NORMAL NOTES.

From all reports the Tishomingo A. & M. football team, which will play the normal here tomorrow, is a good one. The line is about ten pounds to the man heavier than the line of the home team, but the home boys are confident of victory on account of the great variety of plays that they have.

The A. & M. has never beaten East Central in football, and this will not prove an exception if the Normal boys are able to do what they are expecting to do. However, this young school always puts out good teams. It has beaten the teachers one time in baseball, and that is enough to warrant their good work.

It is expected that a large crowd will witness the game. It certainly promises to be one of the best in some days.

The music rendered by the Chicago Ladies Orchestra last evening at the Normal Auditorium was of the highest order, and every one was expressing his supreme pleasure in having an opportunity of hearing it. Perhaps never before, and certainly not many times before, has there been better entertainment in this line in our city. It will be with great hopes that the student body of the Normal and the people will wait for the return of this troupe.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT AT THE NORMAL LAST NIGHT

At the normal auditorium last night was presented one of the very best entertainments ever seen in Ada, the attraction being the Chicago Ladies Orchestra. The program was varied, consisting of high class music, both vocal and instrumental, and readings and impersonations. The great crowd in attendance pronounced the affair a glowing success, and predict that the entire lecture course for the winter will be far above the average.

The proceeds from this course of lectures and entertainments will go toward defraying the expense of fighting the Alken bill, and our citizens in extending their patronage will be aiding a worthy cause.

WANT AD IN THE NEWS GETS EARLY RESULTS

CENTER-LANHAM HAPPENINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Harrison and daughter, Lucile, of Ada, spent Sunday with relatives and friends.

Bro. Brundidge of Ada, was a welcome visitor over Sunday.

Miss Leona Copeland came in from school to spend Sunday with her parents, returning Monday.

Miss Maude Kyser visited her home at Vanoss Sunday.

Mr. Wiley Corvin, of Egypt, attended the 11 o'clock services Sunday.

Bro. Stringer, of New Bethel, accepted the call of Missionary Baptist church here, and preached his first sermon Saturday night. Also Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. We were made glad to have this Christian to serve us the coming year.

Our school is growing with interest each day as the pupils enroll. Cotton will soon be gathered and all the children will be enlisted.

Bro. Stringer accompanied the delegates home from the association at Roff, Thursday, and spent the night at the home of J. D. Gaar.

Several of the Lanham citizens continue to go courting over the location of the school building, which is to be rebuilt.

Mr. Corvin and Miss Glennie Griffith attended singing Sunday afternoon at Jones' Chapel, at which Mrs. Templeman, with her class from Egypt, sang with the chapel choir.

Mr. Chas. Stanley died at his home Thursday. The community was grief-stricken when news came. He had been sick several weeks with typhoid fever. With careful attention of good physicians and a trained nurse from Oklahoma City, their work was in vain. Mr. Stanfield was known throughout this section and had the esteem of all who knew him. The remains were tendered to the McGee cemetery, where Bro. Coggins, of Center, conducted the funeral services, after which the Odd Fellows took charge and paid their tribute. The deceased leaves a wife and baby, Ruth, parents, brothers and sisters. The reporter extends to the bereaved wife and relatives sympathy, and points them to the One who doeth all things well.

HOW THREE WOMEN ENJOYED THE MUSIC

Three plump women, ranging in weight from 160 to 200 pounds, file in and, after much creaking of silk gowns and groaning of chairs, are seated as the concert is about to begin.)

First Plump Woman (breathlessly) "This is going to be a perfectly grand concert. I'm so glad we decided to come this afternoon, though I was awfully afraid Mrs. Deming wouldn't send my gown home. It did come, though, just in time for me to dress. How do you like it?"

Second Plump Woman—"It's perfectly lovely. But then you always look exactly right. So well groomed, don't you know, and all that. Doesn't she, Mrs. Tilden?"

Mrs. Tilden—"It's the dearest thing I ever saw. You certainly have the best taste in dress, Mrs. Snowdon. Every time I see Mrs. Snowdon, Mrs. Thompsons, I say to myself: 'If I only had such taste as she has!'"

Mrs. Snowdon—"How nice you two are! Of course, I know you're just trying to make me happy, but then it's just as dear of you as if you meant it. Now, I think you two are the trimmest two women I know."

(Orchestra plays first number. At its close the three women give three signs of appreciation or relief.)

Mrs. Snowdon—"Pretty, wasn't it? I do just love Wagner. And while I think of it, Mrs. Tilden, I want to ask you where you got that perfect dream of a fuchu you had yesterday at the tea. I'm crazy about it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"Oh, do you really like it? How sweet of you to say so! I got the lace in Paris and I had my little seamstress make it when I got home. I think it's rather fetching."

Mrs. Thompsons—"It's the dearest thing! Oh, they're going to play again. I wish they'd wait a little longer between the numbers."

(The first violinist plays a solo.)

Mrs. Thompsons—"Isn't that violinist the dearest thing you ever saw? I simply adore him."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Yes, he's perfectly sweet, but he has the funniest looking wife. Did you ever see her?"

Mrs. Tilden—"I should think I did. I have very good reasons to remember her. I saw her at the tea Mrs. Dupont gave for her, and one of the maids spilled punch all over my best gown. It was never fit to wear afterward."

(Chorus of lamentations from the other two.)

Mrs. Tilden—"And such a dowdy thing as she is, too. Really, her gown was nothing but the plainest kind of silk. It looked as if she had bought it ready made. Really, the most ordinary looking thing."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Funny, isn't it, how queer these artistic people are about their clothes? The only one I ever knew who wasn't the wife of that artist who visited Mrs. Tolman last winter. Do you remember what perfect dreams her gown were?"

Mrs. Thompsons (with intense interest)—"Weren't they! I never saw anything more beautiful than the one she had at the reception Mrs. Tolman gave for her."

(The orchestra rudely interrupts them.)

Mrs. Tilden—"Isn't that young flutist absolutely the most attractive creature you ever saw? Now, do tell me about the gown you were speaking of, Mrs. Thompsons. You know, I was ill last winter and didn't go to the reception."

Mrs. Thompsons—"Well, it was gorgeous, my dear. Simply too wonderful for words. It was the most delicate shade of bluish lavender—a perfectly indescribable color. Marquise over tulle, draped in the most wonderful way, and caught up with little bunches of chiffon, with a violet fastened in the center of each. What a catastrophe that you missed it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"I almost cried when I heard about it. I was the most disappointed person you ever saw. And usually Mrs. Tolman's affairs are so dowdy. By the way, there's Mrs. Parks down there. Speaking of dowdy people made me think of her. She has less idea of dressing than an other woman I ever knew. Actually she went to Mrs. Tuttle's garden party last Thursday in a perfectly plain linen frock. Not even a suit, my dear—just a little linen dress, with some sprays of embroidery on the front panel. Can you imagine any one doing such an unheard-of thing? I'm sure Mrs. Tuttle felt it very keenly."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Poor Mrs. Tuttle! By the way, I suppose you're both going to the Trenton's Friday evening?"

The Other Two—"Yes, indeed!"

Mrs. Tilden—"I wouldn't miss it for worlds. What are you going to wear?"

Mrs. Snowdon—"Oh, I'm having Mrs. Deming freshen up my white voile with some new laces—just cheap little lace, only $3.50 a yard, but I've worn the gown three times already and I didn't feel like putting much money into fixing it up."

Mrs. Thompsons—"I'm having a little gray chiffon made, and I really think it's going to be a very dainty little frock. Simple, of course, and inexpensive. I've made up my mind that I simply won't spend more than $50 on it. But then I adore simplicity. I simply will not fuss over my clothes."

Mrs. Tilden—"Nor I!"

Mrs. Snowdon—"I feel just the way you do. That's why I adore living in Forest View. I simply couldn't live in a place where people judged you by the clothes you wear. In Forest View, you know, you really don't have to give your clothes a single thought."

TO STUMP OKLAHOMA

The Bait Was Taken.

Here's a little play that was enacted in Ada today. Stage: A local drug store. Actors: Several local jokers.

"Did that corpse arrive this morning?" asks one.

"No, it is not expected until this afternoon," replied another.

"When did he die?" some one chimed in.

"Last night," was the reply.

Here an anxious newspaper reporter butts in.

"Who's dead?" asks the cub reporter.

"George Washington."

SUES FOR PARENT'S RICHES

Daughter's Novel Action Revives International Romance at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—Alice Wilkins von Buckwaldt, a Baltimore girl, wife of Captain von Buckwaldt of the German army, has begun suit here to get possession of the estate left her by her father, who died many years ago, amounting to $250,000. Alice was the youngest child and her mother took her to Germany soon after her father's death. When twenty-one Alice attempted to get her property, but was refused, the executor claiming the will made him trustee for a longer period. The court of appeals ordered the property turned over to the heiress, but before this was done a new complication arose.

Mrs. Wilkins fell in love with a handsome captain in the German army, but her mother refused to give her consent to the match, fearing that the woe was after her fortune. In vain did the girl plead that she knew better, but the mother was obdurate. Finally she said that she would give her consent if the daughter would make a deed of trust of the property in Baltimore so that the captain would not be able to get hold of it. The daughter made the deed of trust and her marriage followed.

The captain proved a good husband and he won his mother-in-law, who subsequently married a general, and both mother and daughter moved in the army set at the German capital. The trustee, when Mrs. von Buckwaldt sought to have the deed revoked, refused and her mother is now adding her daughter's suit to its set aside.

"BANDITS" STEAL GIRL'S COIN

Two Frolick Robbers in Court Say "We Didn't, Didn't, Didn't," While Accuser Says "You Did."

New York—A small, indignant girl stood up in children's court and pointed a stubby and stained forefinger at two other little girls.

"Sure!" she said. "Them is they!"

The complaining witness was eight-year-old Caroline Gross. She accused as being bold, bad highwaymen thirteen-year-old Rebecca Wax and ten-year-old Kate Rappino. The amount of loot, asserted the complaining witness was thirty cents.

"Aw! We never did!" chorused the accused.

"You did, too!" declared Miss Gross. According to the accuser, she had been going to the ice cream store, and in her hand was her purse with thirty cents in it. As she was coming home, she said, and reached the front of 226 East One Hundred and Seventh street, her home, the frolick highwaymen grabbed her and took the money.

"Oh, we didn't, didn't, didn't, didn't!" shouted the accused.

"You did, did, did, did, did!" insisted the complainant. "If you didn't, what made you run?"

"Well," said the accused, "we ran—because, that's why."

CALLS SON BY TELEPATHY

Mother's Illness Draws Him From Mountain Camp to Pasadena Hospital.

Los Angeles—Telepathic messages called Orli Sutliff from a mountain camp to his sick mother's bedside in a Pasadena hospital, according to a statement he made. He said mysterious manifestations turned his thoughts to home and caused him to worry about his father and mother and experience the sensation of groping in the dark for an object which he instinctively knew was there.

He told a companion and when the feeling returned, shouted: "I have it! Mother is sick. I am going home." When he reached his home in Pasadena his father told him his mother was in the hospital. Companion of dates showed the first feeling of uneasiness came over him the day his mother became ill.

READY FOR BURIAL; LIVES

Kansan Struck by Lightning Just Misses Being Placed in Grave—Loses Voice from Shock.

Erie, Kan.—Pronounced dead by a physician and made ready for burial, Charles Slinger, living at Urbana, this county, revived after twenty-four hours. Slinger had been struck by lightning. When found he was apparently dead. The next day Slinger showed signs of reviving and by noon was breathing normally. He was unable to talk, however, because of the nervous shock. It is feared he will be blind as a result of paralysis of the optic nerve.

Old Lady Swims Five Miles.

New York—Gray-haired, sixty-five years old, mother of ten children, Mrs. Elizabeth Berlo, of Edgewater, N. J., swam along and across the Hudson from Edgewater to the Washington club, at the foot of 152d street. When she and her eighteen-year-old daughter Kitty, who accompanied her, had completed their four-mile-and-a-half swim in 45 minutes, she was forcibly restrained from trying to make the return trip as she had come.

Freak Kitten Is Killed.

Dennison, Ohio.—A freak kitten belonging to James Edie of Stillwater was killed by a vicious tomcat. The kitten had three heads, twelve legs and three tails. Two of the heads were gray and one black; eight of the legs were gray and one black. The body was a mixture of gray and black.

AIDED IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Man Surrenders to Police, Declaring That His Conscience Has Been Troubling Him.

New York—Evan Evanson of 1425 Bath avenue, Bath Beach, an elderly man of impressive appearance, called at police headquarters in Manhattan and asked to see the person in charge, if there were any one on duty so late at night and it was not too much trouble.

Lieut. James Dunn, who lately has grown a little sensitive to criticism of the difficulties which persons who desire to surrender for crime or give testimony against criminals are said to have experienced, sent out word that Mr. Evanson was to come right in.

"Fifteen years ago," said Mr. Evanson, "I was responsible for the death of a woman, Margaret Lens, in Brooklyn. My conscience troubles me in my old age and I wish to surrender."

The telephone helped to find two detectives in Brooklyn who were willing to come over and take charge of him, and Mr. Evanson was locked up in the Adams street station over night.

When he was arraigned before Magistrate Dodd, Assistant District Attorney Lee, who had been looking up the death of Margaret Lens, told the magistrate that the health department books showed that Margaret Lens died July 30, 1898, of Bright's disease and that Coroner Delapha had so certified.

"I know that," said Evanson. "I am not exactly a murderer. But I want to tell the grand jury how I am responsible."

Magistrate Dodd committed Mr. Evanson to the Kings county hospital for observation for five days.

FORTUNE FOR ILLEGAL SON

Father Advertises for Kin, Now Fifty-two Years Old, Whom He Plans to Give $60,000.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The following advertisement in the newspapers tells a remarkable tale of an old wrong, with the attempt of the father to right himself after fifty years of silence:

"In the spring of 1860, a few miles from Lancaster, a boy child was born to a German girl named Caroline, who a short time after died, but the child lived. If any one can give any information about this kindly write to C. J. Nyholm, 478 North Third street, Philadelphia."

Mr. Nyholm is an insurance broker and at his home he told the story of an aged and grief-stricken old man who in his reclining years desires to give the child of whom he is the father $60,000. He has not seen the child since 1888, when it is thought that the young man went to Lancaster, being somewhere in the farming section at that time. The father intended to marry the mother of his offspring, but went to the Civil war, and when he was mustered out he found she had died during his absence.

PIN IN LIVER 20 YEARS; DIES

Operation Apparently Successful, But Brooklyn Girl's Strength Fails—First Case of Kind.

New York—Miss Kathryn Roche, Brooklyn, died in the Prospect Heights hospital, and a surgical examination into the cause of her mysterious illness revealed the fact that for 20 years a small pin had been in her liver.

No similar case has ever come to the knowledge of New York surgeons.

Twenty years ago Miss Roche was taken to Seney hospital. It was then thought that she was suffering from an ordinary stomach malady and the doctors sent her home. A recent operation was apparently successful, but the vitality of the patient was not sufficient to carry her through the reactionary period.

MOVING HABIT DIVORCE PLEA

Minneapolis Man Says His Wife Has Changed Abode Twenty-nine Times.

Minneapolis, Minn.—If a man is compelled by his wife to move twenty-nine times in the seventeen years of his married life, is it ground for a divorce?

W. P. Crawley of this city believes it is, and has asked that the court grant him freedom. In his petition he declares that the "moving habit" formed by his wife has become unbearable; that she "beat him up" with broom, and that he gave all his earnings to his wife, who spent them, forcing him to borrow from his brother to provide for his needs.

Weds His Grandniece.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Stephen Scutt, seventy-five years old, a wealthy resident of Dutchess county, has married his grandniece, Miss Alice See, twenty-two years old. They had never seen each other until a few days ago.

Cleveland to Bar Loafers.

Cleveland—Because the faces on public square benches had become familiar through hot days and nights, Police Chief Kohler has ordered habitual loafers barred from the city's downtown breathing places.

Supposed Body Is Dummy.
Chicago.—A horrified crowd ran to the front of the Y. W. C. A. building on Michigan avenue after the body of a woman hit the sidewalk with a dull thud. They found a dummy dressed in an old skirt and jacket.

VERA CRUZ EASILY TAKEN BY FEDERALS

SLIGHT OPPOSITION OFFERED, KILLED AND WOUNDED BEING LESS THAN 100.

Revolutionists in Barracks Refuse to Surrender, But Decline Will Still Resist.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 23.—The revolt of Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of the exiled president, has been short-lived. The town of Vera Cruz, which he occupied with about 2,000 adherents for several days, was captured by the Federal forces today. The casualties were few. Two federal columns commanded by Col. Jimenez Castro and Gen. Joaquin Beltran entered Vera Cruz from the north and south.

There was slight opposition to their advance, Col. Castro, with less than fifty men, capturing Gen. Felix Diaz, whose 300 men at police headquarters refused to fire at his command.

The revolutionists in the barracks have not yet surrendered. They say they will hold out until the last man is killed. However, the weaker spirits seem to be trying to escape. The killed and wounded number less than 100.

No Foreigners Hurt

No foreigner was hurt. Desultory firing continued after the Federals entered the town. Instead of a great battle, everything was in a muddle. Rebels and Federals encountered each other in the streets without one knowing which side the other was affiliated with, as uniforms of all were alike.

Col. Jimenez Castro was shot in the leg during the firing. Col. Diaz Ordaz of the Twenty-First Infantry, who joined Gen. Diaz with his troops in the "revolution," has disappeared, but an active search for him is being made.

The Rebel officers have been made prisoners. It is believed they will not be punished.

The United States Cruiser Des Moines sent Lieut. Burns and Passed Assistant Surgeon Cohen ashore to attend the wounded.

Gen. Felix Diaz, Col. Jose Diaz Arzaza and all officers of the Rebellion troops and marines, will be haled immediately before a court martial and doubtless will suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for convening the court, which will be presided over by Gen. Beltran. Gen.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON

Wife of the Democratic Presidential Nominee, Honorary President of the Woman's National Democratic League.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the new leader of Democracy and probable next mistress of the White House, is perhaps the most interesting woman in the United States today. This is inevitable—not because she wishes it, for she does not—and is as firm as a rock in her conviction that being the wife of a public man does not necessitate nor call for a woman's becoming a publicity seeker. She successfully resisted all appeals of photographers and interviewers until Mr. Wilson's nomination as Democratic candidate for the presidency was un fait accompli. This modesty is easily traced to her southern ancestry and training and is characteristic also of her distinguished husband.

She was born Ellen Louise Axson, daughter of a Presbyterian divine, Savannah, Ga., whose family, so far as he knows, is the only one of the same name in America.

Like Mr. Wilson, she has one brother and one sister living, all in the same literary circle as the doctor and herself.

In this atmosphere of learning Mrs. Wilson could hardly be expected to be other than she is—widely read, broad-minded and charitable, devoted to her home and the principles for which it stands.

She has marked ability as an artist, and it is said that a portrait painter of ability was spoiled when she married the young barrister who had then given up the practice of his profession to specialize on the subject that has made him a presidential nominee.

Mrs. Wilson's three daughters—Misses Margaret Woodrow Wilson, Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Eleanor Randolph Wilson—possess the mental characteristics of their father and their mother's artistic temperament, combined in such a way as to give zest to every moment of their lives and protection from the foibles of the world. They form, indeed, an ideal family circle, one that it would be well for every American household to emulate.

Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is amenable in such court under the law, which provides for a trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

Soldiers of the rebellion troops will be decimated—one in ten being executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty of all. The information was imparted officially tonight.

Conference of Canadian Printers.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The second annual conference of Canadian printers assembled in Montreal today with delegates in attendance from all of the Provinces and some of the large cities of the United States. The meeting will last two days and will be devoted to the discussion of numerous subjects relating to the printing industry.

OVER THE HILL TO THE POORHOUSE

Ours is a land of plenty. On this great country are showered the richest blessings of a provident and Almighty God. Yet we often behold sights which make one to grow sick at heart and doubt the charity of our fellowman.

Yesterday on the streets of Ada appeared a woman and two little children who evidently had not been dealt kindly with by the god of fortune. The mother was a poor, ignorant looking woman, clad in torn and tattered garments. Her bonnet hung loose and limp about her face; her shoes were tied on with cotton strings, and about her shoulders, although it was a cool and chilly day, there was only a thin and tattered shawl. And yet, in spite of all this poverty and want from out her womanly countenance there beamed the radiant, light of young motherhood, though solemn and disappointed.

But the story grows more serious. Two little children, one a babe in the mother's arms and the other a child of some three or four summers, held tightly with baby hands to mother's dress. The little fellows were hungry and emaciated. They, too, were thinly clad, and already their little faces bore the unmistakable marks of grinding poverty.

It was a pitiable sight, and was made more so when the writer learned that this unfortunate family had been turned out of house and home for the winter because the father could not make good on a mortgage.

Ah, me! man's inhumanity to man!

WILSON DELIVERS A SERMON-SPEECH

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 23.—In the solemn atmosphere of a church, apart from the noise of political demonstration, to which he has been accustomed during the last two months, Governor Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech tonight. It was virtually a sermon on the values of church organization and was the principal address at the exercises celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church at Trenton.

"Life without the standard of the church," said the governor, "is something like a faltering quicksand. The church is one of the many expressions of the permanent side of life. This church, through its 200 years has witnessed the birth and death of political parties. It has seen everything change, except the search for God and every community should realize that the search for God should take precedence over everything else."

"I know that the salvation of a church, however, the salvation of the community and the salvation of the state, is to be found only by men who are greater than themselves, a man who is indifferent to his own success, but confident only of the cause he represents has the hosts of Almighty God behind him."

The audience listened intently and applauded vigorously when the governor finished.

NELS DARLING BURSTS FORTH

BULL MOOSER ENTERTAINED SMALL CROWD AT COURT HOUSE.

Last night at the county court house Hon. Nels Darling of Oklahoma City, the irrepressible humorist and platform lecturer, played in a new role. He spoke in behalf of Roosevelt and Johnson in particular and the Bull Moose in general, and made a splendid impression—from a humorist standpoint—upon the small crowd present.

As stated above, Mr. Darling is a platform speaker of the first class, and from his side of the question he presented a splendid case, making both Wilson and Taft appear as mole hills compared to mountains alongside Mr. Roosevelt, and tearing to pieces the platforms of both old line parties, to the great delight of the Bull Moose element here.

On the square, Nels is both a humorist and a joker.

NORMAL NOTES.

From all reports the Tishomingo A. & M. football team, which will play the normal here tomorrow, is a good one. The line is about ten pounds to the man heavier than the line of the home team, but the home boys are confident of victory on account of the great variety of plays that they have.

The A. & M. has never beaten East Central in football, and this will not prove an exception if the Normal boys are able to do what they are expecting to do. However, this young school always puts out good teams. It has beaten the teachers one time in baseball, and that is enough to warrant their good work.

It is expected that a large crowd will witness the game. It certainly promises to be one of the best in some days.

The music rendered by the Chicago Ladies Orchestra last evening at the Normal Auditorium was of the highest order, and every one was expressing his supreme pleasure in having an opportunity of hearing it. Perhaps never before, and certainly not many times before, has there been a better entertainment in this line in our city. It will be with great hopes that the student body of the Normal and the people will wait for the return of this troupe.

Three plump women, ranging in weight from 180 to 200 pounds, file in and, after much creaking of silk gowns and groaning of chairs, are seated as the concert is about to begin.

"First Plump Woman (breathlessly)—"This is going to be a perfectly grand concert. I'm so glad we decided to come this afternoon, though I was awfully afraid Mrs. Denning wouldn't send my gown home. It did come, though, just in time for me to dress. How do you like it?"

"Second Plump Woman—"It's perfectly lovely. But then you always look exactly right. So well groomed, don't you know, and all that. Doesn't she, Mrs. Tilden?"

"Mrs. Tilden—"It's the dearest thing I ever saw. You certainly have the best taste in dress, Mrs. Snowdon. Every time I see Mrs. Snowdon, Mrs. Thompsons, I say to myself: 'If I only had such taste as she has!'"

Mrs. Snowdon—"How nice you two are! Of course, I know you're just saying it to make me happy, but then it's just as dear of you as if you meant it. Now, I think you two are the trimmest two women I know."

(Orchestra plays first number. At its close the three women give three sighs of appreciation or relief.)

Mrs. Snowdon—"Pretty, wasn't it? I do just love Wagner. And while I think of it, Mrs. Tilden, I want to ask you where you got that perfect dream of a fichu you had on yesterday at the tea. I'm crazy about it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"Oh, do you really like it? How sweet of you to say so! I got the lace in Paris and I had my little seamstress make it when I got home. I think it's rather fetching."

Mrs. Thompsons—"It's the dearest thing! Oh, they're going to play again. I wish they'd wait a little longer between the numbers."

(The first violinist plays a solo.)

Mrs. Thompsons—"Isn't that violinist the dearest thing you ever saw? I simply adore him."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Yes, he's perfectly sweet, but he has the funniest looking wife. Did you ever see her?"

Mrs. Tilden—"I should think I did. I have very good reasons to remember her. I saw her at the tea Mrs. Dunton gave for her, and one of the maids spilled punch all over my best gown. It was never fit to wear afterward."

Mrs. Tilden—"And such a dowdy thing as she is, too. Really, her gown was nothing but the plainest kind of silk. It looked as if she had bought it ready made. Really, the most ordinary looking thing."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Funny, isn't it, how queer these artistic people are about their clothes? The only one I ever knew who wasn't was the wife of that artist who visited Mrs. Tolman last winter. Do you remember what perfect dreams her gown were?"

Mrs. Thompsons—"Mrs. Tompkins (with intense interest)—"Werent they! I never saw anything more beautiful than the one she had at the reception Mrs. Tolman gave for her."

(The orchestra rudely interrupts them.)

Mrs. Tilden—"Isn't that young flutist absolutely the most attractive creature you ever saw? Now, do tell me about the gown you were speaking of, Mrs. Thompsons. You know, I was ill last winter and didn't go to the reception."

Mrs. Thompsons—"Well, it was gorgeous, my dear. Simply too wonderful for words. It was the most delicate shade of bluish lavender—a perfectly indescribable color. Marquise over muslin, draped in the most wonderful way, and caught up with little bunches of chiffon, with a violet fastened in the center of each. What a catastrophe that you missed it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"I almost cried when I heard about it. I was the most disappointed person you ever saw. And usually Mrs. Tolman's affairs are so dowdy. By the way, there's Mrs. Parks down there. Speaking of dowdy people made me think of her. She has less idea of dressing than any other woman I ever knew. Actually she went to Mrs. Tuttle's garden party last Thursday in a perfectly plain linen frock. Not even a suit, my dear—just a little linen dress, with some sprays of embroidery on the front panel. Can you imagine any one doing such an unheard-of thing? I'm sure Mrs. Tuttle felt it very keenly."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Poor Mrs. Tuttle! By the way, I suppose you're both going to the Trenton's Friday evening?"

The Other Two—"Yes, indeed!"

Mrs. Tilden—"I wouldn't miss it for worlds. What are you going to wear?"

Mrs. Snowdon—"Oh, I'm having Mrs. Deming freshen up my white voile with some new laces—just cheap little lace, only $3.50 a yard, but I've worn the gown three times already, and I didn't feel like putting much money into fixing it up."

Mrs. Thompsons—"I'm having a little gray chiffon made, and I really think it's going to be a very dainty little frock. Simple, of course, and inexpensive. I've made up my mind that I simply won't spend more than $50 on it. But then I adore simplicity. I simply will not fuss over my clothes."

Mrs. Tilden—"Nor I."

Mrs. Snowdon—"I feel just the way you do. That's why I adore living in Forest View. I simply couldn't live in a place where people judged you by the clothes you wear. In Forest View, you know, you really don't have to give your clothes a single thought."

BUY YOUR COAL NOW AND SAVE MONEY

On account of wishing to keep our ice service good so that you will get your ice in good time on the warm days, we have decided to sell our coal at about cost for a while so as to keep our men and teams busy during what cool days we have, so that we will not have to reduce our ice delivery service, order now and we will deliver to you as we can before the cool weather sets in. Remember that we handle the very best coal, there is many poor mines in a district that is supposed to be good. We buy only from the best and where they prepare it best, there is a fire clay in all mines in this state, the least bit of fire clay in coal will cause it to clink, the fire clay will get into all coal that is mined by the blasting process, we buy only machine mined coal which is the only process that will insure no fire clay, in mining with machines there is a roof and a floor left of coal and there is no way for it to get in, machine mined coal goes on the market at a much higher price than blasted coal, but we have always thought that our customers wanted the best and we have got it for them and sold it for about the same price some sells a low grade of coal for, also remember that we load our wagons with a fork which insures no slack, we can burn our slack under our boilers, and realize something out of it while it is worthless for stove use. We are the only coal dealers in town that has use for slack, what ever amount of slack you get in your coal is the real amount of shortage you have, as it is the same as no coal. We guarantee our weights, and you get 2000-pound tons from us. We have in stock Dewar Lump, and Rotary screened Nut and the best McAlester Lump. Call us up before you buy, we can save you in price and in quality of the coal. Phone 29.

SUES FOR PARENT'S RICHES

Daughter's Novel Action Revives International Romance at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—Alice Wilkins von Buckwaldt, a Baltimore girl, wife of Captain von Buckwaldt of the German army, has begun suit here to get possession of the estate left her by her father, who died many years ago, amounting to $250,000. Alice was the youngest child and her mother took her to Germany soon after her father's death. When twenty-one Alice attempted to get her property, but was refused, the executor claiming the will made him trustee for a longer period. The court of appeals ordered the property turned over to the heiress, but before this was done a new complication arose.

Miss Wilkins fell in love with a handsome captain in the German army, but her mother refused to give her consent to the match, fearing that the woe was after her fortune. In vain did the girl plead that she knew better, but the mother was obdurate. Finally she said that she would give her consent if the daughter would make a deed of trust of the property in Baltimore so that the captain would not be able to get hold of it. The daughter made the deed of trust and her marriage followed.

The captain proved a good husband and he won his mother-in-law, who subsequently married a general, and both mother and daughter moved in the army set at the German capital. The trustee, when Mrs. von Buckwaldt sought to have the deed revoked, refused and her mother is now aiding her daughter's suit to have it set aside.

"BANDITS" STEAL GIRL'S COIN

Two Frolicked Robbers in Court Say "We Didn't, Didn't, Didn't" While Accuser Says "You Did."

New York—A small, indignant girl stood up in children's court and pointed a stubby and stained forefinger at two other little girls.

"Sure!" she said. "Them is they!" The complaining witness was eight-year-old Caroline Gross. She accused as being bold, bad highwaymen thirteen-year-old Rebecca Wax and ten-year-old Kate Rappino. The amount of loot, asserted the complaining witness, was thirty cents.

"Aw! We never did!" chorused the accused.

"You did, too!" declared Miss Gross. According to the accuser, she had been going to the ice cream store, and in her hand was her purse with thirty cents in it. As she was coming home, she said, and reached the front of 226 East One Hundred and Seventh street, her home, the frolicked highwaymen grabbed her and took the money.

"Oh, we didn't, didn't, didn't, didn't!" shouted the accused.

"You did, did, did, did, did!" insisted the complainant. "If you didn't, what made you run?"

"Well," said the accused, "we ran because, that's why."

Mother's Illness Draws Him From Mountain Camp to Pasadena Hospital.

Los Angeles—Telepathic messages called Orrl Sutliff from a mountain camp to his sick mother's bedside in a Pasadena hospital, according to a statement he made. He said mysterious manifestations turned his thoughts to home and caused him to worry about his father and mother and experience the sensation of groping in the dark for an object which he instinctively knew was there.

He told a companion and when the feeling returned, shouted: "I have it! Mother is sick. I am going home." When he reached his home in Pasadena, his father told him his mother was in the hospital. Companion of dates showed the first feeling of uneasiness came over him the day his mother became ill.

Erie, Kan.—Pronounced dead by a physician and made ready for burial, Charles Singer, living at Urbana, this county, revived after twenty-four hours. Singer had been struck by lightning. When found he was apparently dead. The next day Singer showed signs of reviving and by noon was breathing normally. He was unable to talk, however, because of the nervous shock. It is feared he will be blind as a result of paralysis of the optic nerve.

Old Lady Swims Five Miles.
New York.—Gray-haired, sixty-five years old, mother of ten children, Mrs. Elizabeth Berlo, of Edgewater, N. J., swam along and across the Hudson from Edgewater to the Washington club, at the foot of 152d street. When she and her eighteen-year-old daughter Kitty, who accompanied her, had completed their four-mile-and-a-half swim in 45 minutes, she was forcibly restrained from trying to make the return trip as she had come.

Freak Kitten Is Killed.
Dennison, Ohio.—A freak kitten belonging to James Edle of Stillwater was killed by a vicious tomcat. The kitten had three heads, twelve legs and three tails. Two of the heads were gray and one black; eight of the legs were gray and four black. The body was a mixture of gray and black.

Cleveland to Bar Loafers.
Cleveland—Because the faces on public square benches had become familiar through hot days and nights, Police Chief Kohler has ordered habitual loafers barred from the city's downtown breathing places.

Supposed Body Is Dummy.
Chicago.—A horrified crowd ran to the front of the Y. W. C. A. building on Michigan avenue after the body of a woman hit the sidewalk with a dull thud. They found a dummy dressed in an old skirt and jacket.

Man Surrenders to Police, Declaring That His Conscience Has Been Troubling Him.

New York—Evan Evanson of 1425 Bath avenue, Bath Beach, an elderly man of impressive appearance, called at police headquarters in Manhattan and asked to see the person in charge, if there were any one on duty so late at night and it was not too much trouble.

Lieut James Dunn, who lately has grown a little sensitive to criticism of the difficulties which persons who desire to surrender for crime or give testimony against criminals are said to have experienced, sent out word that Mr. Evanson was to come right in.

"Fifteen years ago" said Mr. Evanson, "I was responsible for the death of a woman, Margaret Lens, in Brooklyn. My conscience troubles me in my old age and I wish to surrender."

The telephone helped to find two detectives in Brooklyn who were willing to come over and take charge of him, and Mr. Evanson was locked up in the Adams street station over night.

When he was arraigned before Magistrate Dodd, Assistant District Attorney Lee, who had been looking up the death of Margaret Lens, told the magistrate that the health department books showed that Margaret Lens died July 30, 1898, of Bright's disease and that Coroner Delapha had so certified.

"I know that," said Evanson. "I am not exactly a murderer. But I want to tell the grand jury how I am responsible."

Magistrate Dodd committed Mr. Evanson to the Kings county hospital for observation for five days.

FORTUNE FOR ILLEGAL SON

Father Advertises for Kin, Now Fifty-two Years Old, Whom He Plans to Give $60,000

Philadelphia, Pa.—The following advertisement in the newspapers tells a remarkable tale of an old wrong with the attempt of the father to right himself after fifty years of silence.

"In the spring of 1860, a few miles from Lancaster, a boy child was born to a German girl named Caroline, who a short time after died, but the child lived. If any one can give any information about this kindly write to C. J. Nyholm, 478 North Third street, Philadelphia."

Mr. Nyholm is an insurance broker and at his home he told the story of an aged and grief-stricken old man who in his reclining years desires to give the child of whom he is the father $60,000. He has not seen the child since 1888, when it is thought that the young man went to Lancaster, being somewhere in the farming section at that time. The father intended to marry the mother of his offspring, but went to the Civil war, and when he was mustered out he found she had died during his absence.

PIN IN LIVER 20 YEARS; DIES

Operation Apparently Successful, But Brooklyn Girl's Strength Fails—First Case of Kind.

New York—Miss Kathryn Roche Brooklyn died in the Prospect Heights hospital, and a surgical examination into the cause of her mysterious illness revealed the fact that for 20 years a small pin had been in her liver.

No similar case has ever come to the knowledge of New York surgeons. Twenty years ago Miss Roche was taken to Seney hospital. It was then thought that she was suffering from an ordinary stomach malady and the doctors sent her home. A recent operation was apparently successful but the vitality of the patient was not sufficient to carry her through the reactionary period.

MOVING HABIT DIVORCE PLEA

Minneapolis Man Says His Wife Has Changed Abode Twenty-nine Times.

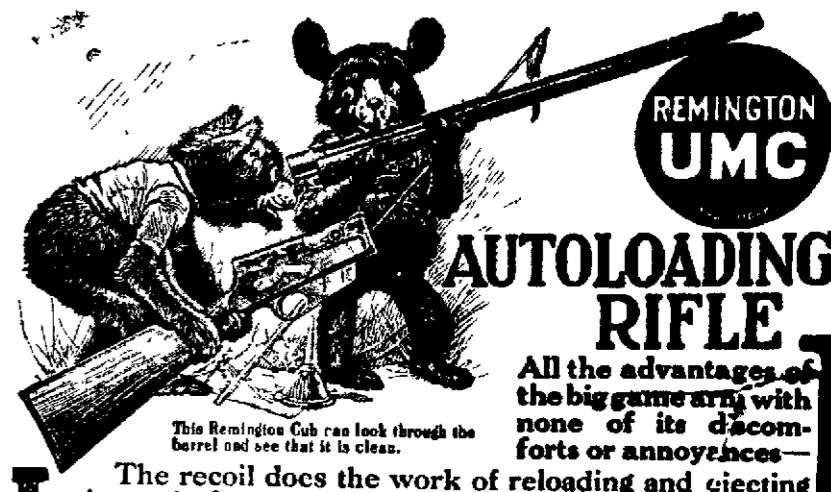

Minneapolis, Minn.—If a man is compelled by his wife to move twenty-nine times in the seventeen years of his married life, is it ground for a divorce?

W. P. Crowley of this city believes it is, and has asked that the court grant him freedom. In his petition he declares that the "moving habit" formed by his wife has become unbearable; that she "beat him up" with a broom, and that he gave all his earnings to his wife, who spent them, forcing him to borrow from his brother to provide for his needs.

SUES FOR PARENT'S RICHES

Daughter's Novel Action Revives International Romance at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—Alice Wilkins von Buckwaldt, a Baltimore girl, wife of Captain von Buckwaldt of the German army, has begun suit here to get possession of the estate left her by her father, who died many years ago, amounting to $250,000. Alice was the youngest child and her mother took her to Germany soon after her father's death. When twenty-one Alice attempted to get her property, but was refused, the executor claiming the will made him trustee for a longer period. The court of appeals ordered the property turned over to the heiress, but before this was done a new complication arose.

Miss Wilkins fell in love with a handsome captain in the German army, but her mother refused to give her consent to the match, fearing that the woer was after her fortune. In vain did the girl plead that she knew better, but the mother was obdurate. Finally she said that she would give her consent if the daughter would make a deed of trust of the property in Baltimore so that the captain would not be able to get hold of it. The daughter made the deed of trust and her marriage followed.

The captain proved a good husband and he won his mother-in-law, who subsequently married a general, and both mother and daughter moved in the army set at the German capital. The trustee, when Mrs. von Buckwaldt sought to have the deed revoked, refused and her mother is now aiding her daughter's suit to have it set aside.

"BANDITS" STEAL GIRL'S COIN

New York.—A small, indignant girl stood up in children's court and pointed a stubby and stained forefinger at two other little girls.

"Sure!" she said. "Them is they!" The complaining witness was eight-year-old Caroline Gross. She accused as being bold, bad highwaymen thirteen-year-old Rebecca Wax and ten-year-old Kate Rappino. The amount of loot, asserted the complaining witness was thirty cents.

"Aw! We never did!" chorused the accused.

"You did, too!" declared Miss Gross. According to the accuser, she had been going to the ice cream store, and in her hand was her purse with thirty cents in it. As she was coming home, she said, and reached the front of 226 East One Hundred and Seventh street, her home, the frolick highwaymen grabbed her and took the money.

"Oh, we didn't, didn't, didn't, didn't!" shouted the accused.

"You did, did, did, did, did!" insisted the complainant. "If you didn't, what made you run?"

"Well," said the accused, "we ran because, that's why."

Mother's Illness Draws Him From Mountain Camp to Pasadena Hospital.

Los Angeles.—Telepathic messages called Orrl Sutliff from a mountain camp to his sick mother's bedside in a Pasadena hospital, according to a statement he made. He said mysterious manifestations turned his thoughts to home and caused him to worry about his father and mother and experience the sensation of groping in the dark for an object which he instinctively knew was there.

He told a companion and when the feeling returned, shouted: "I have it! Mother is sick. I am going home." When he reached his home in Pasadena his father told him his mother was in the hospital. Companions of dates showed the first feelings of uneasiness came over him the day his mother became ill.

Man Surrenders to Police, Declaring That His Conscience Has Been Troubling Him.

New York.—Evan Evanson of 1425 Bath avenue, Bath Beach, an elderly man of impressive appearance, called at police headquarters in Manhattan and asked to see the person in charge. If there were any one on duty so late at night and it was not too much trouble.

Lieut. James Dunn, who lately has grown a little sensitive to criticism of the difficulties which persons who desire to surrender for crime or give testimony against criminals are said to have experienced, sent out word that Mr. Evanson was to come right in.

"Fifteen years ago," said Mr. Evanson, "I was responsible for the death of a woman, Margaret Lens, in Brooklyn. My conscience troubles me in my old age and I wish to surrender."
